

First visit to the dentist

You go to the desk and tell the receptionist your name. She will tell the dentist that you have arrived.

You will then have a seat in the waiting room.

When the dentist is ready for you, the dental nurse will come to the waiting room and call your name.

The dentist will ask you to sit in the big, special chair.

When you sit in the chair, the dentist will press a button and the special chair will move.

It will lie you down - like you are in bed. It is very comfy.

The dentist will say
'open wide' and when you open your mouth...

...the dentist will use a tiny mirror
on a stick to look into your mouth and count your teeth.

The dental nurse will write down the number of teeth that you have.

20

When the dentist has counted all your teeth, they will press the button again...

...and the special chair will sit you up again so you can hop off.

The dental nurse will give you a sticker for being an amazing patient.

Your dental check-up is now finished, so you will go back to see the receptionist who will make another appointment for next time.
